The expenses for these experiences are covered by participant support costs in the sponsored project budget. This policy will offer guidance to comply with federal regulations, ensuring that funds provided for participant costs are separately accounted for, and expended for appropriate and intended objectives.

4. Policy

Participant support costs (as defined in 2 CFR 200.75) are direct costs for items such as stipends or subsistence allowances, travel allowances, and registration fees paid to or on behalf of participants or trainees (but not employees) in connection with conferences or training projects. Participant support costs may not be paid to trainees who are receiving compensation either directly or indirectly from other federal sources while participating in the project.

Participant support costs are allowable with the prior approval of the awarding agency. Participant support costs need to be a part of the funding opportunity or agency rules and be specifically included in the proposal. Conditions or constraints for re-budgeting awarded participant support costs vary and are specific to the awarding agency. Any re-budgeting which changes scope of the award must have agency approval. The addition of a participant program, not previously awarded, is considered a change in scope, and will require agency approval.

Use of a separate fund or account is required for participant support costs to ensure compliance with re-budgeting requests, financial reporting, and accurate charging of F&A costs.

Participant support costs include expenditures for items such as the following:

- A stipend, a set amount of money to be paid directly to the participant in connection with a short-term training activity. Note that short-term means the appointment period approved by the sponsor.
- Travel, which includes the costs of transportation and related associated costs. These travel costs must follow both the sponsor guidelines (e.g., US flag carrier, coach class, most direct route), and UNCG’s travel policies and guidelines. The sole purpose of the trip must be to participate in the project activity. If a training activity involves field trips, the cost of transportation for these field trips for participants may also be allowable.
- Subsistence allowance, or the costs of a participant’s housing and per diem expenses necessary for the individual to participate in the project, provided these expenses are reasonable and limited to the days of attendance. Although they may participate in meals and snacks provided at the meeting or conference, participants who live in the local area are not entitled to subsistence payments.
- Fees, costs directly associated with attending meetings, conferences, symposia, or training projects. These fees may include laboratory fees, passport or visa fees for foreign participants, and registration fees.
- Other costs not listed above should be specifically allowable per the funding solicitation and identified in the approved sponsor budget. These costs are paid on behalf of the participant and should be required for their involvement, including training materials, laboratory supplies, and certain types of insurance directly related to attendance.
Participant support costs do not include the following types of expenses:

- Honoraria paid to a guest speaker or lecturer
- Service or independent contractor agreements
- Conference support costs such as facility rentals, media equipment rentals, or conference food
- Expenses for project personnel or collaborators to attend meetings, conferences, or seminars including meetings to discuss a research project’s progress or direction. These type expenses should be budgeted and paid under travel as allowed by sponsor.
- Payments to participants in human subject research studies
- Incentives, memorabilia, or gifts
- Payments to the providers of the training
